

TAG THAT trend PAISLEY NAILS

Sarah Petersen

Co-owner of Salon Legacy in Rolla, Missouri and international principal educator for Artistic Nail Design, Sarah Petersen has turned her passion for art and nailcare into a burgeoning business and has enjoyed many highs during her 14-year career.

Talented, ambitious, self-enthused and motivated are just a few words that describe Sarah. At 38-years-old, she is a successful nail artist, salon owner and educator and, like many women, has become genius at juggling her family life, married with three children, with her professional persona and responsibilities.

Not content to own and run a salon while nurturing a young family, Sarah completed educator training in 2014 to become an international Artistic Nail Design educator. This role has opened up international travel opportunities where this illustrious educator has worked alongside some of the best nail artists in the world today. "I'm thrilled to be part of the Artistic educator team, as I find teaching very rewarding, and it's been a career-long passion of mine," Sarah enthuses. Constantly educating herself and enhancing her skills, Sarah has made it her mission to continue to grow and develop her skill set in order to expand in and with the nail industry.

1

Apply base coat and cure. Then apply 2 coats of white gel polish over the entire nail and cure under a UV or LED lamp after each coat.

2

Now add in the base layer of the design by using red (for the fronds at the cuticle end and the paisley shape towards the tip) and tan for the flower shape to the left of center, then cure.

3

Build the design up by adding new colors. Layer yellow onto the existing red fronds design and using light green, form a paisley-shape in the top right area. Place a yellow flower directly underneath. Next, cure under UV or LED light.

4

Now start adding in the final details of the design. Place tiny white dots in the border of the red paisley shape, put a pink dot in the center of the tan flower and add a dark green border to the paisley design at the tip and add a lighter green detail to the yellow flower. Now cure.

5

Add a blue border to the tan flower and good-sized blue dots across the bottom tip section and cure. Now cover the nail in a matte top coat and cure once more to complete the design.
