GREEN GODDESS 3D FRENCH

Daria Proia

Daria Proia started her nail career 14 years ago when attending beauty school. Finding nothing more fascinating than nails, Daria knew where her career path was heading. However, keen to utilize the skills she'd accrued, Daria worked as a beauty therapist until her heart moved into working just in nails.

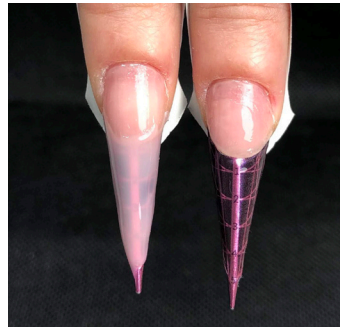

"I started to take a lot of courses in nails, until I moved first to London and then to Sydney, where I worked full-time as a nail technician in the best salons I could find," reveals Daria. "I moved back to Italy and passed a series of exams in order to become a nail master educator. I then continued my training with the best masters I could find across Europe. Always looking for the next new thing in nails, I started to get interested in competitions, and really wanted to be involved. So I took the plunge and entered Nailympia London as well as a host of Hungarian competitions, which fuelled a passion inside me. Now I have a collaboration with the Lumi Nails company as its head master and tester of its vegan and cruelty-free nail range."
